Second Lecture

Present Simple

Reading Text

This is Nick Bell, his sister Jenny, his parents and their dog Chip. Nick is thirteen years old. He goes to Park Street School in Merton. He's got brown hair. He can swim and play football, but he can't do maths or French. He likes sport and music. He doesn't like doing the washing-up. His best friend is Tom, and Jenny's best friend is Amanda. Nick, Jenny and their parents are all smiling because Tom is taking a photograph.

Present simple

We use the present simple

1- for repeated actions, especially with words like always, often, never, every day:

Nick and Jenny always walk to school.

Trig learns five words every day.

2- for facts which do not change:

Nick's got brown hair and brown eyes.

3- with verbs such as like, love, hate, dislike:

Nick doesn't like going to school.

When we use the affirmative form of this tense, we need to add The third person "S" when the subject is a third person like: He, She, or It. And leave the main verb as it is with the other Subjects (we - you - I - they)

Rule:

Subject + main verb (S) + CoS.

He	studies	English every day.
She	goes	to the library in the morning.
I	go	to the market every Saturday.
They	finish	their work at 2:00 pm.

Present Simple

In order to negate the present simple, we need to bring the helping verbs (do or does) depending on the subject.

In order to make question in the present simple tense, we need to bring the helping verbs (do or does) before the subjects as demonstrated below.

Does + She - He - It + main verb + CoS?

Do + They - we - I - you + main verb + CoS.

Does she go to school?

Does he study English?

Does it rain in summer?

Do I / We / you / They waste their time?
```

Third Lecture

Present Continuous

Reading Text

• It's Saturday afternoon. What are Nick and Jenny's family doing? Are they working? The sun's shining. Mum is hanging the clothes on the line. It isn't raining today, so Dad is digging in the garden. Jenney and Nick are doing the washing-up in the kitchen. And what's trig doing? Oh, dear! He's helping! He's hanging the plates on the line. That's funny.

Present continuous

We use the present continuous for something that is happening at the moment of speaking. We also use these words to indicate the tense (now, right now, just now, at the moment).

The sun is shining.

Jenny and Nick are doing the washing-up.

Trig's helping.

When we use the present continuous tense, we have to add (ing) to the main verb.

Rule

Subject + am, is, are + main verb (ing) + CoS.

I am studying Computer science.

She is taking the exam right now.

We are playing football at the moment.

When we negate the present continuous tense, we put (not) after the helping verbs.

Rule

Subject + am, is, are + not + main verb (ing) + CoS.

I	am	not	studying Computer science.
She	is	not	taking the exam right now.
We	are	not	playing football at the moment.

In order to make question in the present continuous tense, we need to bring the helping verbs (am, is or are) before the subjects as demonstrated below.

Rule

am, is, are + Subject + main verb (ing) + CoS?

Am I studying Computer science?

Is she taking the exam right now?

Are we playing football at the moment?

Fourth Lecture

Past Tense

Reading Text

Mr Blake What did you do in the school holiday,

Nick?

Nick I went to Spain in August. I loved it. I also played a lot of football with Tom.

Mr Blake And what did you do, Tom?

Tom I played football with Nick and I built a go-kart. I like building things. I could build things when I was seven years old.

Mr Blake Did you play football, Adam?

Adam No, I didn't. I couldn't play. Tom's go-kart crashed into me and broke my leg.

Past simple

Add ed or d to the base form of regular verbs in the affirmative.

play - played, love - loved

I played football. I loved it.

Irregular verbs have a special form.

go - went, break - broke

I went to Spain. I built a go-kart.

We use the past tense when we talk about something happened in the past and finished. we either have regular or irregular verbs.

Rule

Subject + main verb (ed) + CoS.

He studied hard for the exam.

They went to the university yesterday.

I travelled to Paris two weeks ago.

We make question in the past tense by putting the helping verb (did) before the subject, and turn the main verb to the basic form.

Rule

Did + Subject + main verb + CoS.

Did He study hard for the exam?

Did They go to the university yesterday?

Did I travel to Paris two weeks ago?
```

Fifth Lecture

Comparison of adjectives (1)

Reading Text

Is Trig as fast as Jenny and Nick?

Nick's running.

He's fast.

Jenny's on her rollerblades.

She's faster than Nick.

But look at Trig on Nick's skateboard!

He's the fastest. He's faster than Jenny and Nick.

Comparison of adjectives (1)

We can compare two people or things with the comparative form. Jenny is faster than Nick.

We can compare three or more people or things with the superlative form.

Nick is fast, Jenny is faster, but Trig is the fastest.

One-syllable adjectives: add er or r to the adjective for the Comparative, and est or st for the superlative.

Fast, faster, the fastest.

Nice, nicer, the nicest.

One-syllable adjectives with one vowel + one consonant: double the consonant (except w) before er and est.Hot, hotter, the hottest
Big, bigger, the biggest
New, newer, the newest

One-syllable or two-syllable adjectives ending in y: change y to i before er and est.

Dry, drier, the driest

Easy, easier, the easiest

Heavy, heavier, the heaviest
