

Postgraduate studies in the Department of Medical Physics

The Department of Medical Physics is one of the young departments that was recently established, and therefore there are currently no postgraduate studies in it. Approvals have recently been obtained to open postgraduate studies (Master's) in the Department of Medical Physics.