

University of Mosul
College of Science
Department of Geology and Petroleum
Graduate outcomes

Graduate outcomes:

1. The ability to identify, evaluate, and resolve geological problems using the basic knowledge of geology to work with other sciences to serve in societal scientific and higher educational institutions.
2. The ability to use information technology.
3. Work in the spirit and ethics of the profession.
4. The ability to work within multidisciplinary teams to analyze and identify problems and be obligated to meet the planned deadlines to solve them.
5. The ability to acquire new geological knowledge and skills in professional fields of geology.
6. The ability to identify the main lines of experiments and how to deal with them using an accurate analysis and interpretation of data.
7. The ability to use modern information technology.