b) If amended it shall unfairly affect the competition status of the rest of bidders who mainly submit responsive bids.

31-3 The employer shall examine the technical indicators referred in the technical proposal of the bid under article (17) of the Instructions to bidders specifically in regard to meeting work's requirements referred in chapter six without any significant variation or reservations or deletion.

31-4 If the bid was unresponsive mainly to the requirements of bidding documents, it shall be rejected by the employer and it is not allowed to render it responsive hereinafter through making any modification on the significant variations or reservations or deletion.

32. Unimportant and Non-Conforming Bids

32-1 If the contract is responsive mainly, employer shall have the right to dismiss any non-conformity in the bid that does not constitute a significant variation or reservation or deletion.

32-2 If the bid is responsive mainly, employer may request the bidder to provide any information or documents necessary within a reasonable time to remedy any insignificant errors or non- conformity in his bid, provided that it shall not have impact on prices. And that the non-responsiveness of the bidder to employer's request to remedy this will lead to the rejection of his bid.

32-3 If the bid is responsive mainly, the employer shall correct the non-conformity or any insignificant errors measurable in the bid amount resulting from the non-pricing of some paragraphs or non-conformity, modification shall be carried out by adopting the mechanism referred in the analysis and qualification methodology in chapter 3 of bidding documents.

33. Correcting arithmetical Errors

33-1 If the bid is responsive mainly, the employer shall correct the arithmetical errors by adopting the following:

- A. If there is a discrepancy between the unit price and the item's amount, the unit price is relied on and item's amount shall be adjusted in the light of this, only if there is an error in the location of the decimal point in the unit price from the viewpoint of the employer, then the amount shall be approved and the price shall be corrected.
- B. If there was an error in gross total of the lists of the tables of quantities as a result of addition and subtraction measures of the totals submenus in the tables of quantities, the totals submenus shall be approved and gross total shall be adjusted.
- C. If there is a discrepancy between the values of the amount of any item that is written in figure and in writing, the number specified in writing shall be adopted, unless there was an arithmetic error in determining the value of the amount as a result of paragraphs A and B above. The specified in figure (number) shall be adopted.

33-2 If the bidder of underbid refused the modifications on mathematical errors in his bid, his bid shall be rejected.

34. Conversion to Single Currency

34-1 For the purposes of comparison and analysis, the currency (currencies) mentioned in the bid shall be converted to a single currency as specified in the bid data sheet.

35-1 Unless stated otherwise in the bid data sheet, the preference margin shall be adopted for bids submitted by local bidders and with the value determined in bid data sheet.

36. Evaluation of Bids

36-1 The employer (Committee of evaluating and analyzing the bids) shall adopt the methodology and mechanism listed in this article for the purpose of analyzing and evaluating the bids and no other methodology and mechanism shall be accepted.

36-2 Technical Analysis

Employer (Committee of evaluating and analyzing the bids) shall carry out technical evaluation for bids that have been accepted for being responsive mainly, to determine whether they are conform to bidding documents. For the purpose of reaching analysis findings, the employer shall examine and compare the technical aspects of the bids based on the information provided by the bidders taking into account the following:

- A. Conformity and integration of bids with the requirements of the employer;
- B. Deviations from the requirements of the employer;
- C. Conformity of mechanical supplies, equipment and services offered

- in the bid for performance standards;
- D. Suitability of mechanical supplies, equipment and services to the environmental conditions and climate conditions prevailing at the site;
- E. The quality, performance and operation of the control system of any of the functioning operations of mechanical supplies (if any) or equipment or services;
- F. Quality, quantity and availability of mandatory spare parts and necessary spare parts and maintenance services; and
- G. Any other indicators (if any) as listed in Section 3 (Eligibility and Evaluation Criteria).

And the bid that does not achieve the minimum acceptable standards of perfection and thoroughness and detail required shall be excluded and shall be considered non-conforming.

36-3 If alternative technical solutions are allowed to be submitted under paragraph (13) of the Instructions to bidders and have been provided by the bidder, the employer shall conduct similar evaluation to the alternative bids. And in the event the alternative bids were not allowed, they shall be neglected.

36-4 Financial Evaluation

For the purposes of evaluating the bid, employer (Committee of evaluating and analyzing the bids) shall note the following:

- A. Bid amount after excluding the reserve amount and the general reserves amount (if any) in the tables of prices;
- B. Price adjustment due to correcting arithmetical errors in the tables of price of bids under paragraph (33-1) of the Instructions to bidders;

The employer shall provide necessary evidences in a period preceding the date of commencement by (28) days that he has secured the necessary financial arrangements which enable him to repay any claim of the contractor on an urgent basis under the provisions of "Article Fourteen" (cost of the contract & payments). The employer shall notify the Contractor of any changes he makes to those financial arrangements in detail.

2-5 Employer's Requirements

If the employer believes that he has a right to receive a payment, under any provision of these terms, or for other reasons related to the contract, and / or any extension of the notice period to repair the defects, then he or the Engineer shall give notice to contractor and provide him with details. In spite of this, it is not required of him to send any notice relating to amounts owed to him about water, electricity and gas consumption under paragraph (4-19), or for equipment and materials provided by the employer pursuant to paragraph (4-20), or for any other services required by the Contractor. The notice should be sent as soon as practicable and not later than 28 days from the date on which the employer becomes aware of the incident or the circumstances that led to the emergence of such claims, as for the notice of extension of " notice period to repair defects" it must be issued prior to its termination. These details should refer to the "article or paragraph" in the contract or other bases of claim, and shall include validation of the employer's claim of such amounts and / or periods of extension that he believes he has a right to under the contract. And the engineer shall, in such a case, examine such claims under the provisions of paragraph (3-5) of the agreement or the preparation of estimates for:

(1) Any amounts (if any) due to employer from the contractor

(2) Any extension (if any) for maintenance period under paragraph (11-3)

Employer can include these amounts as deductions from the amounts realized or will be realized to the contractor, and the employer is entitled to put a seizure or make a deduction only from amounts realized to contractor, otherwise make a claim under this paragraph or under item (A) and / or (F-B) of paragraph (14-6).

Article three: Employer Management

3-1 Employer representative

The employer shall have the right to appoint his representative under the law and in this regard, he shall notify the contractor of this and provide him with the name, address, work tasks and the power of his representative. The contractor's representative shall implement the tasks assigned to him and exercise his powers granted by the employer. The contractor's representative shall be authorized with full employer's powers under the contract except those referred in (Article Fifteen), or if the employer notified the contractor otherwise. If the employer wishes to replace any person who has been appointed as the his representative, then he shall give notice to the contractor informing him so in a period of not less than 14 days, showing the name, address, tasks, powers and the date of his commencement.

3-2 Other personnel of Employer

(The employer or his representative - from time to time) may assign to any of his assistants the performance of any of the duties or delegate him any of the powers conferred upon him as he may cancel such a notification or authorization. Those include assistants, resident engineer, and/or any independent inspectors appointed to inspect the mechanical supplies or materials or their selection. Such assignment or authorization or revocation shall not be effective only after receipt of a copy thereof by the contractor. It is conditioned in these assistants to be experienced enough and qualified to perform their duties and carry out the authority entrusted to them, and be experienced in the use of the communication language specified in paragraph (1-4) of the contract.

3-3 Authorized persons

The employer's representative and his assistants, who have been assigned duties or authorize them with powers, shall issue instructions to the contractor, and act within the authority limits specified to them under the authorization. And any authentication or audit or certificate or approval or check or inspection or issuance of instructions or notice or suggestion or request or choice or perform any similar action carried out by an authorized person shall be deemed as if issued by the employer, and in spite of this:

- a) Unless otherwise provided in correspondence of the authorized person, the contractor shall not be exempt from responsibility under the contract, including responsibility for errors, deletions, irregularities and non-conformities.
- b) Any failure of the person authorized by the employer to refuse any work or mechanical supplies or materials shall not mean approving them, and therefore it shall not prevent the exercise of the employer's right to dismiss these works or mechanical supplies or materials.
- c) If the contractor objects on any estimates or instructions issued by the person authorized by the employer, the contractor shall have the right to refer the matter to the employer, which in turn without delay, shall either confirm or reject or amend its contents.

3-4 Instructions

The employer may issue instructions to the contractor if they are necessary to enable the contractor to perform his obligations under the contract. And such instructions should be issued in writing and specify the obligations in reference to the paragraph or articles contained in the contract relating thereto. If any of such instructions include a change, then action shall be taken in accordance with the provisions of (Article thirteen).

The Contractor shall receive instructions from the employer or his representative or any of the employer's representative assistants authorized to issue such instructions.

3-5 Estimations

Where these conditions require that the employer works under this paragraph for the purposes of the agreement or to prepare estimates for any order (mater), employer shall consult with the contractor in serious effort to reach an agreement. If no agreement is reached, it must be on the employer to prepare an estimate in an equitable manner under the provisions of the contract, taking into account all the relevant circumstances. Then the employer shall notify the contractor of any agreement or estimates reached with the supporting details.

And both sides shall adhere by the agreement and estimates included in the notice, and in the event that the contractor provide a notice to the employer, including his disagreement on any of the estimates within 14 days of receiving notice of the employer, then each of the parties shall resort to Dispute Resolution Body with regard to this dispute pursuant to the provisions of paragraph (20-4).

Article Four: Contractor

4-1 Contractor's General obligations

The contractor shall design, implement and complete the works pursuant to contract's provisions and to repair any defects thereto, and works shall be appropriate and in conformity with the requirements of the works to be established as described in the contract. Contractor shall provide mechanical supplies and "Contractor's Documents" specified in the contract, all his implementing personnel, implementation requirements, consumables and other things and services, whether of a temporary or permanent nature, which is required of him to perform the design tasks, implementation and completion of works and repair any defects thereto. All materials, equipment and services involved in the works shall be of qualified origins as specified by the employer.

Works include any work necessary to achieve the employer's requirements or the obligations specified in the contract and works (even if it is not contained in the contract) necessary for the stability, completion, safety and quality of the performance of works.

Contractor shall be responsible for the efficiency, stability and safety of all site operations and all methods of construction. The Contractor shall - whenever requested by the employer - to provide the employer with arrangements and methods details of implementation of works that the contractor proposed to be followed to carry out works. The contractor shall not make any material change on these arrangements or methods without informing the employer in advance of his procedures.

4-2 Good Performance guarantee

The contractor shall issue (on his own expense) a good performance guarantee till the proper completion of works by the value and type of currency specified in the Contract Data, and if the amount is not specified in that attachment then the provision of this "paragraph" shall not apply. The contractor shall provide good performance guarantee to the employer within (28) days from the issuance of Award Letter or upon the signing of the contract agreement by both parties. The guarantee shall be issued by a bank or a financial institution approved by the employer, and shall be prepared according to the sample attached to the special conditions, or in another form approved by the employer. Contractor shall ensure that good performance guarantee be in force till the contract implements and completes works and repair any defects thereto. But if the guarantee conditions contain a date for its expiration, and it found out that the contractor shall not be authorized to receive the "Final Acceptance Certificate" in a date precedes the deadline for its expiration in 28 days, then he shall extend the validity of the guarantee till the completion of works and repair any defects thereto. Employer shall not submit any claim in terms of good performance guarantee only in regard of the amounts payable under a contract. Employer shall indemnify and protect the contractor against all damages, losses and expenses (including litigation fees and expenses) that may result from employer's claim in regard to the guarantee, to the extent which the employer shall be deemed unjust in his claim. Employer shall return the good performance guarantee to the contractor within (28) days from the date under which the contractor entitled the receipt of the Certificate of Performance. In addition to the conditions mentioned in this paragraph, and whenever the employer decides the need to increase or decrease the amount of the contracting as a result of the changes in rates or legislations or as a result for change order by more than 25% for any amount of the contract specified in a particular currency, then the contractor shall, based on employer's request, take immediate actions to increase or decrease the amount of the good performance guarantee in accordance to the state requirements in that currency and by equal proportion.

4-3 Contractor representative

The contractor shall appoint "Contractor Representative" and shall give him full authority necessary on his behalf under contract's requirements. The contractor shall, unless the contractor representative was named in the contract, provide to employer – to obtain his approval – the name and qualifications of the person proposed by the contractor to be his representative. And if not approved or withheld subsequently by the employer pursuant to the provisions of paragraph (6-9) (Contractor Personnel), or if the representative fails in performing his job as a representative of the contractor, then the contractor shall provide, in the same manner, the name and qualifications of another person who is suitable for this appointment.

The contractor shall not be entitled to cancel the use of his representative or to replace him without the employer's prior approval. The contractor representative shall receive instructions on behalf of the contractor pursuant to paragraph (3-4).

The contractor representative may delegate part of his powers or tasks or authorities to any eligible person, and to cancel such delegation at any later time. But such delegation or cancellation is not considered effective only if approved by the employer, having received advance notice signed by the contractor representative includes the name of the authorized person, his qualifications and powers or tasks or authority that authorized to him or that is canceled.

Contractor representative and all these people must be well-versed in using the language of communication specified under paragraph (1-4), and otherwise the Contractor shall secure experienced translators on an ongoing basis within working hours and with the number required by the employer.

4-4 Subcontractors

The contractor shall not assign all works to subcontractors but he may assign to them part of the works after obtaining the written approval of the employer. And the contractor shall be responsible for the acts and faults of any subcontractor or his agent or employees as if such acts or faults are of the contractor himself and in the event of reference to this in the special conditions, the contractor shall provide a notice to the employer in a period no less than 28 days includes:

- a) All information and details of the subcontractor that intended to be approved including his previous experience.
- b) The date expected to commence the work of any subcontractor.
- c) Date of actual commencement of such work on site.

The contractor shall undertake to obligate his subcontractors with the same conditions which binds him in paragraph (1-12) related to maintaining confidentiality. The contractor shall provide fair opportunity for local contractors to work as subcontractors in the implementation of works awarded to him.

4-5 Named Contractor

According to this paragraph, the named subcontractor shall be the subcontractor who the employer shall oblige the contractor to approve based on article thirteen of these conditions, and the contractor shall have the right not to approve the subcontractor who has been nominated by the employer in case of having reasonable objections against him, provided that he shall give a notice to employer explaining the justifications in support of his objection on the nomination.

4-6 Cooperation

The contractor shall, as stipulated in the contract or in response to the employer's instructions, provide appropriate facilities to carry out any of the works of:

- a) Employer's personnel
- b) Any other contractors used by the employer
- c) Workers with any public authorities legally formed, who are used to implement works on site or nearby, other than the works included in the contract

Such instructions will be considered changes to the extent to which the contractor is exposed to bear unforeseen costs that are not expected from experienced contractors to be marked (noticed) before the date of tender submission. Such services required by these users or other contractors may include the use of contractor equipment, temporary works and arrangements for access to the site, which is the responsibility of the contractor.

The Contractor shall be responsible for all his works at the site, and to coordinate his works with works that are executed by other contractors who are in worksite as referred to in the employer's requirements.

If it is required from the employer under the contract to give the contractor possession of any foundation or facility or mechanical supplies or the right to access under the "contractor documents" then the Contractor shall provide the employer of such documents at the time and in the manner specified in the employer's requirements.

4-7 Dimensions Installation

The contractor shall install works for cardinal points, alignments (Erectness), reference levels described in the contract. And the contractor shall be responsible for the accuracy of the installation for all parts of the works, and he shall repair any fault in works places or levels or measures or alignments.

- d) Provide fencing, lighting and guarding and monitoring of works to be completed and delivered under the provisions of "Article Ten".
- e) Provide any temporary works (including roads, walkways, barriers and fences) which may be necessary, due to the implementation of works, for the use and protection of the public, the owners and users of the site adjacent to the land.

4-9 Quality Assurance

The Contractor shall set up a system of quality assurance to prove adherence to the requirements of the contract, provided that the system be compatible with contract details, and the employer is entitled to carry out checks on any of the manifestations of this system. Details of all the procedures and conformity documents shall be provided to the employer - to inform him - before engaging in any of the design and implementation phases, and upon issuing any document of a technical nature to the employer, it should appear on this document what proves the prior approval from the contractor himself on it.

The compliance with quality assurance system shall not relieve the contractor of any of his duties or obligations or responsibilities contained in the contract. However, if the employer decides that there is a need for a particular system to ensure the quality of the works, he would have to show this in the special conditions.

4-10 Site Date

The employer shall put under the disposal of the contractor – for his information – before the "Main Date" what he has of data regarding the subsurface and hydrological conditions on site, including the environmental phenomenon.

And he shall also put under the contractor's disposal any information he required after the Main Date.

The contractor shall bear the responsibility for reviewing and checking these data. And the employer shall not bear any responsibility for the accuracy or adequacy and/ or completion of these data only what is provided for in paragraph (5-1).

4-11 Adequacy of "Contract amount"

It is assumed that the contractor is convinced with the accuracy and adequacy of the "contract amount".

And unless set out otherwise in the contract, the "contract amount" includes all contractor's obligations under the contract (including the reserved amounts – if any) and all things necessary for the implementation and completion of works in a proper manner and to repair any defects thereof.

4-12 Unforeseen Material Conditions (obstacles beyond the control of contractor)

Unless stipulated otherwise in the contract:

- a) It is assumed that the contractor has received all the necessary information regarding the risks, emergencies and any conditions that may affect or hinder the works.
- b) That upon contractor signature on the contract, the contractor has accepted his full responsibility in his expectation for any difficulties and costs for the successful completion of the work.
- c) No amendment of the contract value to cover any difficulties and unexpected costs shall be made.

4-13 Right of passage and Facilities

Unless stipulated otherwise in the contract, the employer shall insure (without any cost on the contractor) access road and site possession including the special or temporary right to pass that are deemed necessary for works. The contractor shall secure on his own responsibility and cost any additional facilities outside the site required by the implementation of works.

4-14 Intervention Avoidance

The contractor shall not intervene unnecessarily or improperly in the following:

- a) The public's wellbeing (comfort)
- b) Access to, use and occupy all roads and passages, whether public or private, within the property of the employer or others. And the contractor shall compensate the employer and protect him from damages and expenses (including litigations' fees and costs) for everything results from any unnecessary or improper intervention or hindrance.

4-15 Access roads

The contractor shall be deemed that he investigated the availability and suitability of access roads to the site at the Main Date, and that he is satisfied of their conditions. And the contractor shall make reasonable efforts to avoid damage to roads or bridges, protecting them from damage as a result of the movement of the Contractor or his employees, and that include the use of appropriate vehicles and roads.

7-3 Inspection

Employer's personnel must have in all reasonable times, the following:

- a) Easy access to all parts of the site and to all places in which natural materials are obtained from.
- b) They could during the production, manufacturing and construction, (on-site and off), testing and inspecting, measuring and examining the materials and workmanship, and check the progress of mechanical supplies and the production and manufacturing of materials.

The Contractor shall provide to employer's members full opportunity to carry out these activities, including the provision of access and facilities, permits and safety tools, note that the contractor carry out such acts does not relieve him from any obligation or liability.

As it comes to works that the employer's representatives must examine or check or inspect or measure and / or test them, the Contractor shall notify the employer when the supplying of such works is made and before cover them or hide them and packaging them with a view to storage or transport. The employer would then to conduct examination, inspection, measurement or testing without any delay, or that the contractor knows he does not need to make detected on them. If the contractor fails to notify the employer, it entails - when requested by the employer - to disclose the works that have been covered, and then return it to its former position and repair defects in which the contractor bears all the costs that ensue.

7-4 Test

Shall apply what is contained in "paragraph" on all tests set forth in the contract except for the tests that are made after the completion (if any).

Unless otherwise provided in contract data, the contractor shall provide all tools, supporting materials, documents and others of information, electricity, equipment, fuel and consumables, tools, labor, materials, qualified and experienced staffs, and others what is required to conduct the tests set out in an effective manner. And he shall also agree with the employer at the time and place to hold the test for any of the mechanical supplies, materials and other parts of the works.

The employer may, pursuant to the provisions of "Article Thirteen" to change the location or the details of tests the set forth, or to order the contractor to carry additional tests. And if it is found as a result of these changed or additional tests that the mechanical supplies, materials or hardware that has been tested does not conform to the requirements of the contract, the cost of implementing these changes borne by the contractor, regardless of the other provisions of the contract.

Employer shall send notice to the contractor before (24) hours at least informing him of his intention to attend the tests. If the employer or his representative did not attend at the time and place agreed, then the contractor can continue to carry out tests, unless issued written instructions from the employer otherwise, these tests shall be deemed as if they had been conducted in the presence of the employer.

If the Contractor incurs a delay and / or a cost due to his compliance with these instructions, or as a result of a delay caused by the employer, the contractor shall give a notice to the employer to assess his dues in related thereto, taking into account the provisions of paragraph (20-1), regarding:

- a) Extending the completeive period due to the delay, if the completion had been delayed or will be delayed, under the provisions of paragraph (8-4).
- b) Or any such cost to be added to contract value.

The employer shall, after receipt of such notice, to carry out works pursuant to provisions of paragraph (3-5) by agreement thereto, or make estimates for these matters.

The Contractor shall submit to the employer, without delay, certified tests reports. If the employer finds that the tests have been approved, then he shall approve the test certificate, or he shall issue to the contractor a letter to that effect. The employer shall, if was not present at the tests, accept the results of the readings as correct.

7-5 Rejection

If the contractor fails to conduct any tests required under the contract, or if it found that as a result of any test or inspection, measurement or check, that any of the mechanical supplies, materials or manufactured items to be defective, or that it does not comply with the requirements of the contract, the employer may reject the mechanical supplies or materials or manufactured items by giving notice to the contractor, with a statement of the reasons for the rejection. Subsequently, the contractor shall repair the defect in the item rejected so it shall be compatible with the requirements of the Contract.

If the employer request re-test of any mechanical supplies, materials or manufactured items, then he shall re-conduct the tests under the same conditions or circumstances. If it found as a result that the employer has incurred additional costs due to the rejection and re-test, the contractor shall, pursuant to paragraph (2-5), pay this additional cost to the employer.

7-6 Repairs Works

In spite of any tests or an earlier issuance of a previous certificate, the employer has the authority to issue instructions to the contractor, including the following:

- a) Remove any mechanical supplies or items in breach of contract's requirements or replace them.
- b) Remove and return any part of works in breach of contract's requirements.
- c) Implement any work, in the opinion of the employer, is deemed urgently required for the safety of works, due to an accident or unforeseen event or for any other reason.

If the contractor fails to comply with any instructions specified in paragraph (3-4), the employer shall be authorized to use any other person to carry out such work and pay him in exchange for his work. Other than that to the extent in which the contractor is entitled to a payment in connection with this work, the contractor shall, pursuant to paragraph (2-5) pay to the employer all the expenses resulting from such failure.

7-7 Ownership of Mechanical Supplies and Materials

Any items of the mechanical supplies and materials to the extent it complies with the country's laws shall become the property of the employer (free from any lien or right of third parties) as of date which comes closest to the following:

- a) When it entered to installed in the works; or
- b) When the contractor shall become authorized to receive payment that includes allowance for mechanical supplies and materials, in the event of work suspension pursuant to paragraph (8-10).

7-8 Returns of Property Right

The Contractor shall, unless otherwise stated in the specifications, to pay royalties and rents and other payments related to the following:

- a) Natural items obtained from outside the site; and
- b) Disposal of debris, the result of excavations and other excess material off site (whether natural or manufactured), unless the contract involves the allocation of places to put the debris within the site.

Article Eight: Commencement, delayed completion and work suspension

8-1 Commencement of work

Unless otherwise specified in the contract agreement:

- a) The employer shall send the contractor a notice of the work commencement date before (7) days at least.
- b) The date of commencement shall be within 42 days from the date the contract shall be in force and effective under paragraph (1-6)

The contractor shall start with the design and implementation as soon as practical after the date of commencement and shall continue in work thereafter in due speed without any delay.

8-2 Completion Period

The contractor shall perform all the works, and any part thereof (if any), during the completion period specified for entire works or any part thereof (as the case may be), and includes:

- a) Accomplish success in "test upon completion".
- b) Complete all works specified in the contract, as required for entire works or any part thereof, so it can be deemed completed for delivery purposes under paragraph (10-1).

8-3 Work Program

The Contractor shall provide the employer time work program within (28) days from the date of commencement. And he shall also submit a revised program at any time it found out that the previous program is no longer in line with the actual progress or with the Contractor's obligations. Unless otherwise stated in the contract, any of the work programs shall include the following:

- a) The order in which the contractor intends to implement the works thereunder, including the expected timing for each stage of the works.
- b) Review periods of contractor's documents under paragraph (5-2).
- c) Statement of the sequence and timing of inspections and tests specified in the contract.
- d) Supporting report covers:
 - 1) Overall description of the implementation methods proposed to be adopted by the contractor for each major stage of implementation.
 - 2) Approximate numbers for the preparation of Contractor's personnel classified according to skills and numbers of contractor's equipment for each major stage of implementation

Unless the employer - within 21 days of the date of receipt of the program - comment upon and inform the contractor about the extent of non-conformity of the program to the contract, the contractor shall have the right to carry out implementation thereunder, taking into account his other obligations under the contract. And employer personnel shall be authorized to rely on this program when planning to perform their activities.

The Contractor shall send a notice to the employer, immediately, for any possible future events or circumstances that could adversely affect the implementation of works or delay implementation.

If the employer at any time notified the contractor that the work program is no longer complies with the contract (indicating the extent of non-conformity) or it is not commensurate with the actual progress of the implementation and the planned objectives of the Contractor, then the contractor shall provide a modified program to the employer pursuant to the provisions of this "paragraph".

8-4 Extension of Completion Period

The contractor shall have the right – (with subject) to paragraph (20-1) – to have extension for completion period if a delay occurred or was expected to occur, and its impact on the delivery date of works for the purpose of applying paragraph (10-1), for any of the of the following reasons:

- a) Change, unless agreement was made on amending the completion period under paragraph (13-3).
- b) Any reason for delay justifies the extension of completion period under any of such conditions.
- c) Any delay or hindrance attributed to employer's behavior or his personnel, or any other contractors working for him at site.

If the contractor considered himself authorized to an extend to "completion period" then he shall notify the employer thereon pursuant to paragraph (20-1) and when the contractor estimates each period extension under paragraph (20-1) he may reconsider his earlier estimates and he may increase, but he shall not decrease the total extension for completion period.

8-5 Delays due to authorities

The delay or hindrance shall be considered a cause of delay according to Para (b) of item (8-4), in the following cases:

- a) the contractor responded seriously in following the procedures established by the competent authorities legally.
- b) These authorities have caused delay or hindered of the contractor's work.
- c) That this delay or hindrance was not foreseeable

8-6 Rate of Work Progress

If it found out at any time:

- a) That the actual progress is very slow so that completion becomes unattainable during the completion period.
- b) That the progress of work is delayed (or will be delayed) from the timing of the current program referred to in paragraph (8-3).

And this was not due to one of these reasons set out in paragraph (8-4), then the employer can issue instructions to the contractor pursuant to paragraph (8-3) to develop a revised work program, supported by a report shows the revised methods which the contractor intends to follow to accelerate the rate of work progress and complete it within the completion period.

Unless the employer instructed otherwise, the contractor shall start to adopt the revised methods that may require the increase of working hours and / or the numbers of contractor's personnel and / or implementation requirements, on contractor's responsibility and cost. But if these revised methods lead to employer bears additional costs, then the contractor shall – pursuant to the provisions of paragraph (2-5) – pay such additional costs to the employer, in addition to any delay compensations (if any) under paragraph (8-7) subsequently.

8-7 Delay Compensations

If the contractor fails to fulfill the obligation to complete the works pursuant to the provisions of paragraph (8-2), he shall pay the employer pursuant to the provisions of paragraph (2-5) delay penalties resulting from such failure, and such penalties shall be in amount set forth in Contract Data, for each day pass between the period specified for completion and the date set out in the initial acceptance certificate for works. However, the total fines payable under this "paragraph," should not exceed the maximum delay penalties (if any) as stipulated in the Contract Data.

Delay penalties are all what the contractor shall pay for this failure, except for the case of termination of the contract by the employer under paragraph (15-2) before works completing, these penalties shall not relieve the contractor from his obligation to complete the works or of any of his duties, obligations or other responsibilities under the contract and shall not prejudice the impose of these penalties against the employer in compensation for damage suffered by him as a result of the delay.

8-8 Work Suspension

The employer - at any time - may issue instructions to the contractor to suspend work in any part of the works or all. The contractor during this suspension, shall protect, store and maintains the works or part thereof against any deterioration, loss or damage.

The employer may also explain the reasons for suspension in his notification. If the reason for suspension is the responsibility of the contractor, then the provisions of the following paragraphs (8-9, 8-10, 8/11) shall not apply.

8-9 Consequences of Work Suspension

If the Contractor incurs delays in completion period and / or in a cost due to its compliance with the employer's instructions to suspend the work pursuant to paragraph (8-8), and / or resume work, the contractor shall give a notice to the employer of this, to estimate the contractor's entitlements pursuant to paragraph (20-1) with respect to:

- a) Any extension in completion period due to this delay, if completion was delayed or will be delayed under paragraph (8-4).
- b) Payment of any cost, for the purpose of adding it to contract amount.

After the employer receives the notice, he shall reconsider it according to the provision of paragraph (3-5) to be agreed upon or prepare his estimates in regard of these matters. Note that the contractor shall not entitle any extension to completion period or recover the cost incurred due to his carrying out repairs to what resulted of defect in his design or materials or workmanship or any failure from his part in the protection or storage or maintain works pursuant to the provisions of paragraph (8-8).

8-10 Payment for Mechanical Supplies & Materials in case of Work Suspension

The contractor shall be entitled to be paid the value of the mechanical supplies and / or materials (as it is on the date of work suspension) which are not supplied yet to site, if:

- a) The work in mechanical supplies or the supply of mechanical supplies and / or materials has been suspended for a period exceeds (28) days.
- b) The contractor considers these mechanical supplies and / or materials have become property of the employer according to the instructions issued by the employer.

8-11 Prolonged Suspension

If work suspension continues under paragraph (8-8) for a period exceeds (84) days, (unless otherwise indicated in the special conditions), the contractor may demand from the employer to allow him to resume the work, and if the employer did not allow the contractor to resume the work within the (28) days following the date of demand, the contractor may, after giving notice to employer, deal with this suspension as it is a cancellation under the provisions of "Article Thirteen" for that affected part of works. But if the suspension affects the entire works, the contractor may send a notification to terminate the contract from his side pursuant to the provisions of paragraph (16-2).

8-12 Resumption of work

If instructions or permission issued from the employer to resume work, then both parties collectively shall, carry out detection on works, mechanical supplies and materials affected by the suspension, and the contractor shall repair any damage or defect or loss suffered during such suspension period, after receiving direction from the engineer of so under Article Thirteen (changes and amendments).

Article Nine: Tests upon completion

9-1 Contractor Obligations

The Contractor shall carry out "tests upon completions" in accordance with the provisions of this "article" and paragraph (7-4), after submitting the documents required from him under paragraph (5-6) (documents as implemented), (5-7) (Operation & Maintenance Evidence).

The contractor shall inform the employer by notification of at least (21) days from the date when the contractor is ready to carry out any of the tests upon completion. Unless otherwise agreed, these tests shall be made within (14) days after this date, on the day or days determined by the employer.

Unless specified otherwise in the Special Conditions, the completion test shall be carried out according to the following steps:

- a) a test prior to the initial acceptance certificate of works that includes the proper test for systems and equipment involved in the works as well as testing their performance during operation on (hot or cold) to determine the ability of such systems and equipment to perform their work properly in preparation to second stage referred to in paragraph (b) later.
- b) A test for the initial acceptance of works that includes a certain operation tests to ensure that works or the part included in the receipt can be operated properly as specified to it in all operating conditions.
- c) Pilot test to ensure that the works or the part included in delivery are operating in an efficient manner under the contract.

The Contractor shall, during the pilot tests and upon the steadiness of works in stable conditions, give notice to the employer informing him of the readiness of works to conduct any completion tests, including performance test that will outline the extent to which works are to the specifications set out in the employer's requirements for performance guarantees.

Pilot operation shall not include the initial notification of receipt of the works under Article Ten unless otherwise indicated under data contract. Any outcome resulting from the operation of works would be entitled to the employer.

Employer shall, when evaluating the results of "tests upon completion", take into appropriate permit to consider any use of works under the knowledge of the employer on performance and other characteristics of the works. Contractor shall provide a report supported by those tests to the employer when works of any department are considered have passed tests upon completion stage under items (a, b, c) above.

9-2 Delayed Tests

If the employer delayed tests upon completion without justification, then the provisions of paragraph (7-4) and / or paragraph (10-3) shall apply in terms of intervention in conducting the tests.

And if the contractor delayed tests upon completion without justification, then the employer may sent a notification to the contractor requesting him to conduct the tests within (21) days from the date of receiving the notice, and the contractor shall conduct the tests within such period in the day or days determined by the contractor provided that he send a notification to the employer in this regard.

But if the contractor fails to conduct "tests upon completion" within the (21) days period, employer's personnel may conduct the tests on the contractor's responsibility and cost, and these tests shall be deemed as if were conducted in the presence of the contractor and their results shall be accepted as true.

9-3 Re-test

If works or any part thereof fails to pass "tests upon completion" then the provisions of paragraph "7-5) shall apply. Employer or contractor may request re-test the part of work fails in the tests, provided the tests shall be redone under the same conditions and circumstances.

9-4 Failure to pass tests upon completion

If works or any part thereof fails to pass "tests upon completion" after re-conduct them under paragraph "9-3", and then the employer shall be authorized to take any of the following procedures:

- a) Order to repeat the tests upon completion once again under paragraph (3-9)
- b) If that failure leads to employer material loss of taking full advantage of the works or any part thereof, the employer may reject the works or any part thereof (as the case may be), and in this case, the employer shall have the right to obtain same penalties set forth within the provisions of item (11-4-C).
- c) The employer shall issue initial acceptance certificate for works.

In the case of the application of item (c) above, the contractor shall continue in performing all his other obligations under the contract and the contract amount shall be reduced by an amount that is appropriate to cover the decrease realized value for the employer as a result of this failure. And if this reduction that is related to the failure is not determined in the contract (or its calculation has been identified), the employer may request evaluate the reduction in one of the following two methods:

- 1) Agreed upon between parties (such as full compensation for this failure only) and the compensation shall be paid before the issuance of the initial acceptance certificate of works.
- 2) It shall be evaluated and paid under the provisions of paragraphs (2-5) and (3-5).

Article Ten: Receipt of Works from Employer

10-1 Receipt of Works and Works sections

With the exception of the text in paragraph (9-4) with respect to the failure to pass the "tests upon completion", the employer shall receive works when:

- 1) Works have been completed under the contract, including the matters determined in paragraph (8-2) related to completion period, and save as what is allowed under section (a) below, and
- 2) The initial acceptance certificate for works has been issued, or deemed as have been issued in accordance with the provisions of this "paragraph."

The contractor may request the employer to issue "the initial acceptance certificate of works" in a period of not less than (14) days from the date on which works – in the opinion of the contractor - have been completed and ready for delivery. If the works are divided into sections, the contractor shall submit a request to hand over any part thereof in the same manner. The employer needs to carry out the following, within (28) days after the date of receipt of contractor request:

- a) issue "the initial acceptance certificate of works" in which he determines the date which the works or any part thereof is considered completed under the contract, except any secondary works and defects remain that shall not materially affect the use of works – or any part thereof – for the purpose for which it was established, (till the completion of such works and the repair of such defects) ; or
- b) Reject the request, stating the reasons, and determining the work that the contractor shall complete so the initial acceptance certificate of works can be issued. And the contractor shall complete such work before sending another notification to receive the works under the provisions of the paragraph.

But if the employer did not issue the initial acceptance certificate of works or rejects the contractor's request during the (28) days period, and the works or the section (as the case may be) have been completed substantially under the contract, then the initial acceptance certificate of work shall be deemed as if is actually issued on the last day of that period.

10-2 Receipt of parts of works

Receipt of parts of works or their use by employer is not allowed unless stipulated in the contract or agreed upon between the parties.

10-3 Intervention in the conduct of tests upon completion

If the contractor was unable to conduct "tests upon completion" - for a period exceeding 14 days - for any reason attributed to the employer, the Contractor shall conduct "tests upon the completion" at a later convenient date... If the Contractor incurs delays in completion period and / or costs as a result of such delay in conducting "tests upon completion", the contractor may give notice to the employer to evaluate his entitlements, taking into account the provisions of paragraph (20-1), regarding:

- a) Any extension for completion period resulting from this delay, if the completion is delayed or will be delayed, under paragraph (8-4); and
- b) Any such cost with profit margin to be added to the contract amount.

The employer shall – after receiving the contractor notice – carry out pursuant to paragraph (3-5) by agreement or prepare estimates related thereto.

Article Eleven: Responsibility for defects

11-1 Completion of remaining works and Repair defects

In order for contractor works and documents, and any part of them, to be in a condition required by the contract (except as may result from the normal expected consumption and use) at the expiry of the maintenance period relating thereto, or immediately after in the shortest practical possible period, the contractor shall:

- a) Complete any remaining work as of the date specified in the initial acceptance certificate of works, within a reasonable time according to employer's instructions.
- b) Implement all works required to repair defects or damage according to employer's instructions (or his representative), on or before the expiration of the maintenance period in such Works or any part thereof (as the case may be).

If a defect occurred or damage happened, the employer (or his representative) shall give notice to the contractor.

11-2 Cost of Repairing Defects

The contractor shall bear the cost of all works referred to in item (11-1-B) on his own responsibility and cost, if it was and to the extent that such works attributed to:

- a) Designs of works except part of designs that are under the responsibility of the employer (if any).
- b) The inaccurate operation and maintenance caused by reasons of the responsibility of the contractor under paragraph (5-6) and up to paragraph (5-7) or others.
- c) Any failure of the contractor in adherence to any other obligation.

But if and to the extent to which such works attributed to any other reason, "does not belong to the contractor", in whole or in part, employer (or on his behalf) shall inform the contractor without delay, and in such a case, the provisions of paragraph (13 - 3) relating to make changes shall apply.

11-3 Extension of maintenance period (during the maintenance period)

The employer shall have the right to extend the notice period of the Defects in the works or any part thereof, under paragraph (2-5), in a period equal to the maintenance period listed in the tender offer attachment and for no longer than two years, and to the extent that such works, or any part thereof, or any major item of mechanical supplies (as the case may after receiving) cannot be used for the purposes intended, due to the existence of a defect or damage.

If the supply of mechanical supplies and / or materials or their installation suspended under the provisions of paragraph (8-8) or at the contractor instructions under the provisions of paragraph (16-1), the contractor's obligations under the provisions of this "article" shall not apply to any defects or damage that may occur two years after the deadline in which the maintenance of such mechanical supplies and / or materials expire, if the suspension did not occur.

11-4 Failure to repair defects

If the contractor fails to repair any defect or damage within a reasonable period, the employer (or his representative) may send a notice to the contractor reasonably in which he specify a another date to repair such defects or damage prior to its expiry.

If the contractor fails to repair the defect or damage at the time referred to, and this resulted that the repair shall be on the contractor's expense, in accordance with paragraph (11-2), the employer may take any of the following procedures (by his choice):

- a) Performs the work himself or through others, in a reasonable manner and on contractor's expense, but with no responsibility on the contractor for this performed work. In such case, the contractor shall - according to paragraph (2-5) -

- pay the employer costs reasonably incurred to repair the defect or damage.
- b) Request employer to reach an agreement or to prepare his reasonable estimates to reduce the contract amount in exchange thereof according to the procedures of paragraph (3-5).
 - c) If the defect or damage leads to deprive the employer to take full advantage of the works or any major part of which substantially, he may terminate the entire contract or terminate it for that major part which cannot be used for the intended purpose. And without prejudice to any other rights entail to him under contract or other reasons, the employer may recover all amounts paid to the contractor for works or for that part (as the case may be), adding to them the expenses of funding, dismantling, site evacuation and returning of mechanical supplies and materials to the contractor.

11-5 Removal of defective works

If the defect or damage cannot be repaired at the site on an urgent basis, the contractor may - after obtaining the employer approval - to transport from site for the purpose of repairing any parts of the mechanical supplies that are defective or damaged, but such approval may require assigning the contractor to increase the value of performance guarantee equivalent to full replacement value of such mechanical supplies that have been removed, or to provide another guarantee appropriate in respect thereof.

11-6 Subsequent Tests

If repair works for any defect or damage have an impact on the performance of the works, the employer may request re-perform any of the tests described in the contract, including completion tests and / or after complete checks, provided that such request be done within (28) days from the date of completion of repair the defect or damage.

Such tests shall be made under the same conditions under which the previous tests, were conducted but the cost of re-conducting them shall be borne by the party who is responsible for the defect or damage as may be specified under paragraph (11-2) with respect to the cost of the repair works.

11-7 Right of access to site

Until the issuance of the initial acceptance certificate of works, the contractor has the right to access to all parts of the works and view the operation and performance records. Unless in conflict with reasonable security considerations of the employer.

11-8 Duty of contractor to search for causes

The Contractor shall - if so requested by the employer - to search under the supervision of the employer for the reasons for any defect in the works. And unless the cost of repairing defects at the contractor's expense under the provisions of paragraph (11-2), the employer shall estimate the cost of the process of searching for reasons, with a reasonable profit margin, in accordance with the provisions of paragraph (3-5), either by agreement or by preparing estimates needed, to be added to the amount of the contract.

11-9 Performance Certificate

The contractor shall not consider that he has completed the performance of his obligations only after the employer issue "final acceptance certificate for the works" to the contractor, indicating the date on which the contractor is considered that he has completed the obligations required under the contract.

The employer shall issue a "certificate" within (28) days after the expiration of the last period of maintenance, or at the earliest opportunity after the contractor has submitted all "contractor's documents," and he completed all works and has been checked entirety, including any repair of defects in them, and if the employer has not been able to issue the final acceptance certificate for the works in view of this:

- a) It is assumed the issuance of the final acceptance certificate for works on the (28) day of the date specified for its issuance under this paragraph.
- b) The site shall be evacuated under paragraph (11-11) and the responsibility of the employer shall cease under paragraph (1) of paragraph (14-14).

The "final acceptance certificate for the works" only without others is considered to be representative to accept the works

11-10 Unfulfilled Obligations

After the issuance of "final acceptance certificate for works" each party shall remain liable for the fulfillment of any obligation that he did not accomplish to date. Therefore, the contract shall remain valid between the parties till the determination of the nature and extent of unfulfilled obligations.

11-11 Site Evacuation

The contractor shall, upon receipt of final acceptance certificate of works, remove from site what remains of contractor's equipment, surplus materials, debris, waste and temporary works. And if the all such mechanical supplies and equipment was not removed within (28) days from the date of employer receipt of a copy of "final acceptance certificate of works", the employer shall have the right to sell or dispose of their remnants. And the employer shall be authorized to recover the costs he incurred to complete the sell or disposal process and recover the site.

The contractor shall be paid any surplus balance of the sale proceeds. But if the value of what has been gained is less than what the employer spent, then the contractor shall pay the remaining balance to the employer.

Article Twelve: After-Completion Tests

12-1 After-Completion Tests Procedures

If the contract stated on after-completion tests, and not otherwise provided for in the Special Conditions, then pursuant to the provisions of this article:

- a) The contractor shall secure electricity, fuel and materials and the presence of his representatives and equipment to conduct the test.
- b) The contractor shall secure any equipment, machineries and the adequate number of his experienced and qualified personnel to conduct the after-completion tests in an efficient manner.
- c) The contractor shall conduct the after-completion tests in the presence of the employer and / or his representative as requested by any of the parties.

The after-completion tests shall be conducted at the nearest reasonable opportunity after receiving the works or part of the works from the employer. The employer shall give (21) day notice to the contractor from the expected date to conduct the post-completion tests. Unless agreed otherwise, tests shall be conducted within 14 days from this date and on days determined by employer.

The Contractor shall coordinate and evaluate the results of the tests and prepare a detailed report of this, and appropriate action of the impact of the damage caused by the early use of the works from the employer shall be taken.

12-2 Delaying tests

If the contractor incurred any additional amounts as a result of delays in conducting the tests by the employer after completion, the Contractor shall:

- a) Give notice to employer
- b) Submit a claim of any amounts incurred as a result of this, plus a profit margin under paragraph (20-1) to be added to the cost of contract.

As soon as the employer receives notice from the contractor, he shall start determining these amounts and profit margin and agreed upon, under paragraph (5-3). If the post-completion tests not been achieved yet for works or any part thereof during the maintenance period (and any period to be agreed upon between the parties) for any reasons not attributed to the contractor, then the works or part of the works required to undergo "test upon completion" has passed the required completion test.

12-3 Re-test

If the works or any part thereof fails in the "post-completion test":

- a) Action should be taken pursuant to item (11-1-B); and
- b) Re-test shall be done for parts of the work that failed in the test or the need to re-conduct the post-completion test under the same terms and conditions.

If the contractor incurred any additional amounts attributed to reasons referred in item (11-2/ A-D), the contractor shall under paragraph (2-5) pay such amounts to employer.

12-4 Failure to pass After-Completion Tests

Works or parts of works can be considered have passed the test based on the following conditions:

- a) Failure of works or any part thereof in passing any or all post-completion tests;
- b) If reference is made to the amount payable by the contractor in the contract (or to its calculation) for damages (other than those related to performance efficiency) resulted from failure of works in the tests;
- c) Payment of such amounts by the contractor during maintenance period.

If the works or part thereof fails in passing the post-completion tests and the contractor proposed a treatment or repair for works or that part which fails the test, then the employer (or his representatives) shall give notice to the contractor to enter in the works at the appropriate times for him to enter in the works to implement such repairs and the contractor shall be present to implement such repairs or treatments and achieve tests during a reasonable period from the date of receiving the notice from the employer (or his representatives) and during the period convenient to the employer. But if the contractor did not receive such notice during the period specified to repair the defects, the contractor shall not be responsible for this obligation and the works of that part of works (as the case may be) shall pass the post-completion test.

If the Contractor incurs any additional amounts as a result of any unreasonable delay of the employer in securing the entry of the contractor to the works or equipment involved in the work to uncover the reasons for the failure of works and equipment in the post-completion test or to perform treatments and repair, the Contractor shall carry out the following:

- a) Give notice of this to the contractor; and
- b) Submit his claims for the amounts resulting from such delay with profit margin under paragraph (20-1) and shall be added to the contract cost.

The employer shall, after receiving the contractor's notice, proceed under paragraph (5-3) to agree or determine such amounts and profit margin realized to the contractor.

Article Thirteen: Changes and Amendments

13-1 Authority to make Change

The employer can, at any time before the issuance of works receipt certificate and after the employer's approval, to initiate changes in the works, both through instructions he issued, or request the contractor to submit a proposal for consideration. And that such change shall not include the deletion of any work being executed by other contractors.

The Contractor shall adhere to each change (change order) and implement it, unless the Contractor gives notice, without delay, to the employer informing him:

- a) That he cannot obtain the implementation requirements needed to implement the change works on time;
- b) That the change will reduce the safety or the validity of works; and
- c) That the change will significantly affect the achieving of Undertakings Schedule.

The employer shall, during his receipt of contractor's notice, cancel or confirm or review the instruction in terms of the change proposed by him.

13-2 Engineering Assessment

The contractor can, at any time, to submit to the employer a written proposal, which shows his opinion, that if adopted, it:

- a) Will accelerate the completion of the work;
- b) Will reduce the cost of works (for the benefit of the employer) in terms of implementation or maintenance operations or the operation of works;
- c) Will elevate the efficiency or value of works performed for the benefit of the employer; and
- d) Will achieve another advantage for the employer in general.

The preparation of this proposal shall be made at the expense of the Contractor, and shall conform to the requirements of changes procedure specified in paragraph (13-3) later.

13-3 Change Procedures

If the employer requested a suggestion (proposal) from the contractor, before issuing instruction to a change, the contractor shall respond to the request in writing as soon as practical, either by showing the reasons for his inability to comply (if this is the case), or he shall present the following:

- a) A description of the works proposed to be carried out and the timetable for their implementation;
- b) Contractor's proposals for any amendment required to be made on the timetable in accordance with paragraph (8-3), and its impact on the duration of the completion of the works; and
- c) Contractor's proposal to calculate the change value.

The employer shall, as soon as practical, after receiving contractor's proposal (under paragraph (13-2) or otherwise) responds to contractor either by approving or disapproving, or he shall send his notes thereto, note that the contractor shall not postponed the implementation of any work during waiting for the answer and that any instructions to implement a change, with any request for requirements of costs registration, shall be issued by the employer to the contractor, and the contractor shall notify him of receiving such instructions.

As soon as instruction to conduct change or approve it, the employer under paragraph (3-5) shall reach an agreement on or determine the amount to be added to the amount of the contract and these amounts will include a reasonable profit margin and such amounts shall be determined by Contractor's claim under paragraph (13-2) If applicable.

13-4 Payment by Currencies Payable

If the contract stated the payment of contract amount in more than one currency, then upon agreement on any change of prices or approved it, or carry out an estimates in this regard, as mentioned above, the amount that will be paid in each currency of the currencies payable shall be determined.

Accordingly, reference should be made to the actual or expected percentages of currencies used for payment in terms of the cost of the work changed, and the percentages of various currencies specified for payment of the contract value.

13-5 General Reserve Amount

Each reserve amount has been allocated in whole or in part in accordance with the instructions of the employer shall be used only, and the contract amount be amended accordingly. The total amount paid to the contractor shall not include only such amounts related to work or implementation requirements or services for which the reserve amount is allocated, according to the employer's instructions. And for each reserves amount, the employer may issue his instructions concerning the following:

- a) For work implemented by the contractor (including the mechanical supplies or materials or services required to be provided) and its value as a change shall be estimated under paragraph (13-3); and
- b) Mechanical supplies or materials or services that are bought from the contractor, and required to be added to the contract amount:
 - 1) Actual amounts paid by the contractor (or payable by him); and
 - 2) An amount for administration expenses and profit, calculated as a percentage from such actual amounts by applying the relevant percentage (if any) as determined in Contract Data.

The contractor shall, when requested by the employer to do so, to submit prices proposals and evidentiary invoices, documents, accounts or receipts.

13-6 Daily Paid Work

The employer may, issue instructions to implement the change on the basis of daily paid work for small businesses or of contingent nature, and is then evaluated under the "daily paid work" schedule covered by the contract, and by the procedures specified later. But if there is no "daily paid work" schedule covered by the contract, the provisions of this paragraph shall not apply.

The Contractor shall - before installing the purchase orders of implementation requirements - submit to the employer priced offers, also he shall, when submitting payment request, submit invoices and documents and accounts or receipts relating to the implementation of any of such items.

With the exception of any items which have not been identified in "daily paid work" schedule for payment, the contractor shall submit daily accurate statements (in two copies) include the following details for resources that were used in the implementation of the previous day's work:

- a) Names, jobs and work duration of contractor's personnel;
- b) Determination of types and operating time of contractor's equipment and the use of temporary works; and
- c) Quantities and types of mechanical supplies and materials used.

Contractor shall sign one copy of each statement if he approved it or finds it correct (true), and then return it to the contractor. The contractor then shall provide a priced statement of these resources to the employer prior to include them in the next payment statement under provisions of paragraph (14-3).

13-7 Amendments Due to Legislative Change

Unless specified otherwise in the Special Conditions, the contract value shall be amended to consider any increase or decrease in the cost as a result of any change in the country's laws (including the enactment of new laws and cancel or amend existing laws) or in the judicial interpretations or official government interpretations thereto, if such change made after the Main Date, and resulted an impact on contractor's performance of his obligations under the contract.

If the contractor incurred (or will incur) delay and / or additional costs as a result of such changes in the laws or in the interpretations, that made after the Main Date, the Contractor shall send a notice to the employer to assess his entitlements thereon, taking into account the provisions of paragraph (20-1), regarding:

a) Extending completion period due to the delay happened, if the completion is delayed or will delay, under paragraph (8-4); and

b) Any such cost, to be added to the contract amount.

The employer shall, after receiving such notice, pursuant to the provision of paragraph (3-5), reach an agreement in this regard or to make necessary estimates concerning these issues.

In addition to the above, the contractor shall not be entitled to any extensions in work duration if that delay has already taken into account in the extension of contract duration, and not cost shall be paid for this if it was taken into account in the inputs of prices review list under paragraph (13-8) (Amendments Due to Costs Change).

13-8 Amendments Due to Costs Change

If there is a context allows to review and amend contract value for increase or decrease occurs in work wages and prices of materials and any components of implementation, the amendment for contract value shall be calculated according to the mechanism determined in Contract Data.

- d) Any amounts to be added to the advance payment (if there is more than one installment) and their deduction for the purpose of their recovery under the provision of paragraph (14-2);
- e) Any other amounts or deductions that may be realized under any of contract provisions, including those resulted from the provisions of "Article Twenty"; and
- f) Deduction of amounts paid in all previous advance payments certificates.

14-4 Schedule of payments

If the contract contains a schedule of payments specifying the payment method of contract amount in installments, then and unless provided otherwise in the said schedule:

- a) Installments specified in the schedule of payments shall be the estimated contractual values for the purpose of item (14-3-a) above pursuant to the provisions of paragraph (14-5) ; and
- b) If these installments weren't identified by reference to the actual progress in work implementation, and it found out that the actual progress of the works performed is less or more than what is specified in the schedule of payments, then the employer shall start applying the provision of paragraph (3-5) to agree on or prepare a corrected installments that take into account the extent of delay in work progress to which the determination of previous installments was based on.

But if the contract did not contain schedule for advances, then the contractor shall provide non-binding estimated for the advances he expect to be due to him at the end of each quarterly cycle, provided that the first estimate shall be within (42) day after commencement date, and the submitting of the corrected estimates shall continue at the end of each chapter (quarterly), till the issue of a works receipt certificate.

14-5 Mechanical Supplies and Materials to be used in works (Preparations)

If the contractor entitled to progress advances (under the contract) for the equipment involved in the works and materials that did not arrive to the worksite till the date of provision of the advances request, then the installment shall not be paid unless:

- a) The equipment and materials has arrived to the project's country and marked its ownership to the employer according to the employer's instructions; and
- b) The contractor delivered to the employer insurance documents and bank guarantee issued in the form and from a party approved by employer and in the amount and type of work for progress advances.

The same form of advance payment referred in paragraph (14-2) can be adopted for bank guarantee and shall be valid till the arrival of equipment and material to site and store it properly and provide security necessary against loss and damage and corrosion.

14-6 Issue of interim Advances

No amount shall be paid to the contractor, till the employer receives and approves the performance guarantee. And after that the employer shall, within a period of (28) days from receiving the statement of advances and the supporting documents, issue a notice to the contractor of his reservations on any item in the statement explaining the justifying reasons, and the payment of advances shall not be stopped only in the following cases:

- a) If anything supplied or any work performed by the contractor does not conform to the contract, the cost of repair or replacement can be withheld till the completion of such repair or replacement; and
- b) If the contractor has failed (or is failed) in the performance of any work or obligation according to the contract, and been notified by the employer, the value of such work or obligation may be withheld till the work or obligation is being performed.

The employer may in any advances certificate, carry out any correction or amendment was to be carried out properly the value of any previous advance payment certificate. And any advance payment cannot be considered as indication of employer's satisfaction or approval or consent or conviction.

14-7 Payment to Contractor

Unless provided contrary to what is mentioned in paragraph (2-5), the employer shall pay the contractor:

- a) The first installment of the advance payment within (42) days from the effective date of the contract, or within (21) days from the date of employer's receipt of performance guarantee pursuant to paragraph (4-2) and for the advance payment guarantee pursuant to paragraph (14-2) whichever comes last;
- b) The certified amount for each progress advance except final advance, within (56) days after receiving the statement (detection) and its supporting documents; and
- c) The certified amount of the final payment payable within (42) days after receiving the final payment statement (detection) and the letter of the release of the final payment pursuant to the provisions of paragraph (14-1) and paragraph (14-12).

Payment should be made to the contractor for each amount due in the specified currency, and to deposit the amount in the bank account designated by the contractor in the country of payment (for this currency) specified in the contract.

14-8 Delayed Advances

If the contractor did not received any advance payment due to him under paragraph (14-7), he has the right to receive funding expenses for any delayed amounts paid to him, in mixed accounts a month for the period of delay, this period shall be calculated from the date of payment mentioned in paragraph (14-7), regardless of the date of issuance of the progress advance (in the case of item (14-7-b)).

Unless otherwise stated in the Contract Data, the financing charges are calculated on the basis of the annual discount rate set by the Central Bank in the currency of payment, plus (3%), to be paid in the specified currency.

The Contractor shall be entitled to receive this payment without formal notice or ratification, and without prejudice to any other right or compensation, provided that the percentage of funding expenses shall not exceed the percentage in accordance with the laws in force in the country of implementation of the works, unless otherwise provided for in the Contract Data.

14-9 Payment of Cash Deductions

When the initial acceptance certificate of works shall be issued and such works have passed successfully in all the required tests (including post-compleitive tests), employer shall release half the cash balance of deductions to the contractor. If the initial acceptance certificate of works was issued for part of the works, then half the cash deductions shall be released in a percentage equal to the value of that portion of the total value of the works and after the success of that part in all tests.

The Contractor shall be entitled, upon expiration of the last period of maintenance periods; to recover the cash balance of deductions remained with the employer. In the case of the expiration of the maintenance period for the part of works, the percentage representing that part of the remaining cash balance of deductions shall be returned.

If repairs for works under the provisions of Article eleven or twelve appeared, then the employer has the right to withhold the estimated cost of such repairs from the value of cash deductions remaining till the completion of its implementation.

The percentage of representation of any part of the works will be the percentage representing the value of that part to the total value of the works, as described in the contract. If such percentage of that part was not included in the contract, any of the cash deductions for that part under this paragraph shall not be released.

Unless specified otherwise in the Special Conditions, the Contractor shall be entitled, after the issuance of the initial acceptance certificate of works and obtain the consent of the employer to release the first half of the cash deductions, provide a bank letter of guarantee from an accredited bank (in the form referred to in the attachment to Special Conditions) in return for the release of second half of the cash deductions and that the letter of guarantee, which is in the same amounts and currency for the second half off cash deductions, be valid till the contractor completes the works and repair any defects similar to the letter of guarantee for good performance referred to in paragraph (4-2).

Once the employer receives a letter of guarantee in return for the release of cash deductions, the employer shall pay cash deductions. This form to release the second half of cash deductions is contrary to what is stated in the second phrase of this paragraph and it is an alternative proposal and employer shall release the letter of guarantee in return for the release of the second half of cash deductions within (21) days from the date of his receive the final acceptance certificate of works. If the letter of guarantee for the good performance referred to in paragraph (4-2) and its amount was more than half of cash deductions upon the issuance of the initial acceptance, then thesecond half of the cash deductions shall be released without the need for a new letter of guarantee in return for its amount.

But if the amount of the letter of guarantee for the good performance is less than the half cash deductions, at which time, the remaining half cash deductions in return for a letter of guarantee shall be released by the difference between the amounts of the letter of guarantee for good performance and the half cash deductions remaining.

14-10 Statement of Final payment (statement of Completion payment)

The Contractor shall provide the employer, during a period not exceeding (84) days from the date of receipt of the initial acceptance certificate of works, a statement of final payment - in (6) copies - with the supporting documents, according to the requirements of paragraph (14-3), indicating herein:

- a) The value of all works that have been performed under the contract until the date specified in the initial acceptance certificate of works;
- b) Any other amounts that the contractor has a right therein; and
- c) Estimates of any other amounts that the contractor considers it will be entitled to him under the contract, provided that separate details for each amount of the amounts estimated in the statement of completion advances shall be provided.

Then the contractor shall verify the advance sue under the provisions of paragraph (14-6) and payment under the provisions of paragraph (14-7) and from this disbursement of the Final payment shall not be made only after the contractor provides confirmation of receipt by Subcontractors and supplier of materials approved to their dues till the advance prior to the completion advance.

14-11 Application for Final Account Certificate

The contractor shall provide the employer within a period of (56) day from the date of his receipt of the final acceptance certificate of works, a draft of statement of final account – in a number of copies required – with the supporting documents, in the sample approved by the employer, stating the details of the following:

- a) The value of all works that have been implemented under the contract; and
- b) Any other amounts the contractor deems that he is entitled to it under the contract, or otherwise.

If the employer disapproves the draft of the statement of the final account, or was not able to validate a part of it, the contractor shall provide the necessary additional information required by the employer reasonably, and the contractor shall amend it in the form agreed by both parties, note that this statement in the form approved, called in this condition (Statement of Final Account). However, if it found out as a result of the subsequent discussion between the parties, and any amendments on the draft of the Statement of Final Account agreed upon, that there is a dispute, the employer shall pay the parts of the draft of the Statement of Final Account agreed upon pursuant to the provisions of paragraph (14-6) and (14-7).

After that, if the dispute is finally settled under the provisions of paragraph (20-4), or settled under the provisions of paragraph (20-5), the contractor then shall prepare and provide "Statement of Final Account" to the employer supported by the documents listed later and as stipulated in the Special Conditions of the contract:

- 1) Clearance from the competent authorities about the foreign labor of this contract;
- 2) Clearance from the competent authorities proving he paid all the dues of employees registered on the contract;
- 3) Clearance from the General Authority of Customs and the General Authority of taxes; and
- 4) Confirmation of receipt of subcontractors and suppliers of materials approved to all their dues.

14-12 Letter of the release of Final payment certificate

The contractor shall, when providing the statement of the final account, to deliver to the employer a written acknowledgment proving in it that "statement of the final account" represents a final and complete settlement for all amounts due to contractor under the contract or related thereto.

It can be stated in this acknowledgment that it shall not become effective until after the return of the performance guarantee to the contractor and his receive for the remainder of the balance of the amounts due to him, in this case the release of the final account certificate shall take effect from this date.

14-13 Issue of the final payment certificate

Pursuant to the provisions of item (c) of paragraph (14-7), employer shall pay the final dues to the contractor after calculating the amount of the previous advances that were paid to him and any deductions under paragraph (2-5).

14-14 End of employer's responsibility

The employer is not liable to the Contractor of anything or something resulting from this contract (or associated with it), or the implementation of the works, only to the extent that the contractor presented thereon a claim for an amount expressly:

- a) Within "Statement of Final Account", and
- b) Within "Statement of Final Advance" described in paragraph (14-10), except for the things or matters emerging after the issuance of the initial acceptance certificate of works.

Anyway, what is stated in this "paragraph" shall not limit the employer's responsibility under his obligations in compensation, or of employer's responsibility for any cases of fraud or willful default or negligence behavior from his side.

14-15 Payment Currencies

The "contract amount" shall be paid in the currency or currencies specified in the table of payments currencies, and unless stated otherwise in the contract data, and if the payment will be made in more than one currency, the payment shall be made as follows:

- a) If the "contract amount" specified in local currency only:
 - 1) The percentages or amounts of the local currency and foreign currencies and fixed exchange rates that will be used in calculating payments shall be, as defined in the contract agreement, unless the parties have agreed otherwise.
 - 2) Payment and conducting deductions concerning reserve amounts, pursuant to the provisions of paragraph (13-5), and prices amendments due to legislation pursuant to paragraph (13-7), shall be made in currencies and percentages applicable.
 - 3) As for other payments and discounts referred in items (14-3, a, b, c, d) they shall be paid in currencies and percentages specified in item"(a-1)" above.
- b) Payment for compensation specified in the Contract Data, should be carried out in currencies and percentages specified in the schedule of payment currencies.
- c) As for other payments paid by the contractor to the employer, they shall be paid in the currency in which the amounts were spent with the knowledge of the employer, or in any other currency to be agreed upon between the two parties.
- d) If the amount payable to the employer from the contractor in certain currency exceeds the amount payable from the employer to the contractor in this currency, employer may discount the balance of such amount from the amounts due to the contractor in other currencies.
- e) If the prices of foreign currency exchange were not determined in the table of payment currencies, then prices of currency exchange rates that were prevailed at the Main Date as decided by the central bank in the country (the country of implementation) shall be adopted.

Article Fifteen : Work Withdrawal and Contract Termination by Employer

15-1 Notification of Correction:

If the contractor failed in performing any obligation under the contract, the employer, after giving written notice requesting to him to correct this failure and remedy it within a period of (15) days, has the right to lay the hand on the site and works and the contractor shall out of them if his request of correction of this failure was not responded to.

15-2 Contract Termination by Employer

First: The employer is entitled to withdraw the work in the following cases without referring to the court:

- h) Any operation of the forces of nature, which deemed unforeseen, or which cannot be expected to take appropriate preventive measures against it by an experienced contractor.

17-4 Consequences of Employer Risks

If resulted from any of the risks listed in paragraph (17/3) above any loss or damage to the works or implementation requirements or contractor's documents, the contractor shall give notice to the employer immediately, and repair the damage or loss to the extent required by the employer.

If the Contractor incurred a delay in the implementation and / or a cost due to the repair of such damages or losses, he shall send give notice to the employer to assess his requirements, taking into account the provisions of paragraph (20-1), regarding:

- a) The extension of completion period due to this delay, if the completion delayed or will delay, under the provisions of paragraph (8-4) ; and
- b) Any such cost, to be added to the contract value.

The contractor shall, after receiving a subsequent notice, to act according to paragraph (3-5) by agreement or make assessment on these matters.

17-5 Intellectual and industrial property rights

The expression "infringement" in this paragraph shall mean: any infringement (or alleged infringement) on any rights such as patented invention or registered designs, copyrights, or labels or trade name or trade secrets or other intellectual or industrial property rights relating to work, and the term "claim" shall mean any claim (or proceedings to demand) alleges the occurrence of an infringement.

If the any party did not give notice to the other party about any claim within (28) day from the date of receiving a claim, the first party (in this paragraph) shall be deemed have waived his right in compensation under the provisions of this "paragraph".

Employer shall compensate the contractor and protect him from any claim of infringement, if the claim:

- a) Has occurred as a result of the contractor's compliance with the provisions of the contract, of which cannot be avoided; and
- b) Resulted from employer use of any works:
 - 1) For a purpose not intended for, or that can be deduced from the contract, reasonably;

- 2) Connected to anything the contractor has not supplied, except if this is use is known to the contractor before the "Main Date" or it is stipulated in the contract.

The contractor shall compensate the employer and protect him from any other claim that may arise from or in connection to:

- 1) Contractor's designs and the manufacture, implementation and installation of works;
- 2) Use of contractor's equipment; and
- 3) Optimal use of the equipment.

If any party is entitled to compensation under the provisions of this "paragraph," the compensator party shall negotiate on his account to settle the claim through judicial or arbitral proceedings that may ensue, and the other party shall assist in challenge the claim at the request of the compensator party and on his account. And the other party and his employees shall refrain from providing any acknowledgment that could be unfair against the compensator party, only if the compensator party has failed to hold negotiation or litigation or arbitration at the request of the other party.

17-6 Limitation of Liability any party shall not be liable to the other party about the loss of use of any of the works, or loss of profit from any contract, or loss of opportunity to win other contracts, or for any indirect or sequent damage or loss, which caused to other party due to the contract, except for what is stipulated in the delay penalties under paragraph (8-7) and the cost of repairing defects under paragraph (11-2), and payment after contract termination under paragraph (15-4), and payment on termination under paragraph (16-4) and fines under paragraph (17-1) and consequences of Employer Risks under clause (17-4-b), and the intellectual and industrial property rights under paragraph (17-5).

The overall responsibility borne by the contractor to the employer under the contract or in relation thereto shall not exceed the amount specified in the Contract Data or "Contract amount" specified in the contract (if an amount has not been determined in the contract data) and with the exception of:

- supply of electricity and water in accordance with paragraph (4-19);
- employer's equipment and materials provided by him free of charge, in accordance with paragraph (20-4);
- compensations, in accordance with paragraph (17-1);
- Intellectual and industrial property rights, in accordance with paragraph (17-5).

The provisions of the "paragraph" shall not limit the responsibility of the infringer (violator) party in any of the cases of fraud or willful default or misconduct carelessly from him.

17-7 Use of offices and Residence of the Employer

Contractor shall take full responsibility to take care of headquarters and residence departments of employer's representatives at the sites (if any) and as determined in the employer's requirements, starting from the date of delivery of the site to the contractor until the date of the evacuation due to the evacuation of works (if the evacuation is at a later date to the date specified in the initial acceptance certificate of works).

If any loss or damage occurred at the above-mentioned headquarters during the validity of the contractor's liability resulting from any reason whatsoever, but it is not due to the employer. The Contractor shall and at its own expense repair the damage and replace the missing parts, according to the employer's requirements.

Article Eighteen: Insurance

18-1 General requirements of Insurance

The term "insurer party" in "this article" - for each type of insurance, shall mean this responsible party for obtaining and maintaining insurance cover provided for from any of the "materials" of this article.

Whereas the contractor is the "insurer party", he shall procure insurance with insurance bodies and with acceptable insurance conditions to the employer, so such conditions shall be compatible with any general terms agreed upon by the parties prior to the date of "Letter of Award", since these agreed conditions shall have precedence over the provisions contained in this "article".

Whereas the employer is the "insurer party", he shall procure insurance with insurance bodies and with acceptable insurance conditions to the contractor, so such conditions shall be compatible with any general terms agreed upon by the parties prior to the date of "Letter of Award", since these agreed conditions shall have precedence over the provisions contained in this "article".

If it is required in the insurance policy to provide compensation for joint insurance (i.e., for the parties jointly), the insurance cover shall be applied for each insured party independently as though it has been issued a single policy to him. But If the insurance policy stipulated to provide compensation "for additional participants" i.e. to any other persons, non-insured parties under the provisions of this "article", then:

- 1) The contractor shall act on behalf of those additional participants other than employer's personnel whereas the employer shall be their representative.
- 2) Those additional participants shall not be authorized to receive payments directly from the insurance body or to have any direct dealing with such insurance body.
- 3) The insurer party to ask all these additional participants to comply with the conditions contained in the insurance policy.

And it is required in every insurance policy against loss or damage, that its compensation to be paid in necessary currencies to compensate for the loss and damage, and that the payments offered by the insurance bodies shall be used for the purpose of compensation for the loss or damage.

The "insurer party" in question shall provide other party, during the periods specified in the Contract Data (which is calculated by the commencement date) the following:

- a) A proof that he has issued the required insurance documents under this "article".
- b) Copies of the insurance documents related to the insurance on works and contractor's equipment under paragraph (18-2) and insurance against personal injuries and property damage under paragraph (18-3).

And the "insurer party" shall, on payment of each premium, provide copies of receipts to the other party.

Each party shall adhere to the conditions listed in any of the insurance policies. And the "insurer party" shall inform the insurance body of any changes on the works and to make sure of the validity of the perpetuation of insurance documents under the provisions of this "article".

No party shall be entitled to make any substantial amendments to the terms of any insurance policy without the prior approval of the other party. And if another insurance body carried out (or tried to carry out) any amendment to the terms of the insurance, the party which the insurance body notified of amendment first, shall notify the other party immediately of the matter.

If the "insurer party" fails to obtain and maintain any of insurance required of him under the terms of the contract, or failed to provide proof acceptable and copies of documents in accordance with the requirements of this "paragraph", the other party (by his choice and without prejudice to any of his rights or procedures) shall be entitled to obtain insurance documents required for certain events, and to pay the consequent premiums, and the insured party shall reimburse the value of these premiums to the other party, and the value of the contract amounts shall be amended by the amounts paid.

Any provision of this "article" shall not represent a limitation on any of the duties or obligations or responsibilities of the contractor or the employer under any other provisions in the contract or for other reasons. Both the contractor and / or the employer shall bear any amounts that are not insured or are not collected from the insurance bodies, each according to what is required of him under these duties or obligations or responsibilities, except for the situation where the "insurer party" fails to issue and maintain the insurance policy that can be issued, and is required under the provisions of the contract and the other party did not agree to cancel it and he, in turn, did not conclude insurances to cover this breach, so any amounts which can be recovered from the insurance for issuance of such insurance document, shall be borne by the "insurer party."

The payments paid by any party to the other party, shall be subject to the provisions of paragraph (2-5) relating to the employer's claims or paragraph (20-1) relating to the contractor's claims, as applicable.

The contractor shall be entitled to procure insurance related to the contract (including but not limited to insurance referred to in Article Eighteen with insurance companies and countries eligible.

18-2 Insurance on contractor works and equipment

The "contractor" shall procure insurance on works, mechanical supplies, materials and the contractor's documents in an amount equal to its the full replacement value plus cost of demolition and transfer of rubble and professional fees and profit, and this insurance shall apply as of the date in which a proof is required to be provided under item (18-1-a) until the date of issuance of the, " initial acceptance certificate of works."

And the "contractor" shall also maintain the perpetuation of insurance cover to the date of the issuance of "performance certificate" against any loss or damage, where the contractor or his subcontractors are responsible for reasons occurred before the issuance of the "initial acceptance certificate of works," and against any loss or damage that may cause by the contractor or subcontractors while carrying out defects repair in accordance with the provisions of article "Eleventh" and article "Twelve."

The "contractor" shall procure insurance on contractor's equipment in an amount not less than its total replacement value including the expenses of delivery to the site, taking into account that this insurance is effective for each machine during transportation to the site and until no longer needed as contractor's equipment.

Unless otherwise stated in the contract data, the insurance according to this paragraph shall:

- a) Be valid and sustained by the contractor as insurer party
- b) Be in the name of parties jointly, who are entitled jointly to obtain the insurance amount from insurance bodies, and then shall be saved or allocated to the party that will bear the cost of repairing the damage or loss.
- c) Cover all damage or loss resulting from any case not mentioned within the employer's risks under paragraph (17-3).
- d) Cover as well every damage or loss related to the risks mentioned in item (c) of paragraph (17-3) of employer's risks with an amount deductible for each incident but shall not exceed the amount specified in the Contract Data, (and if no amount has been specified, then item (d) shall not apply).
- e) Nonetheless, the insurance on damage or loss or replacement can be excepted for the following:
 - 1) Any part of the works to be in defective condition due to a defect in design, materials or manufacturing (but the insurance cover must be maintained for any other parts damaged as a result of this situation directly, but not for the reasons set forth in item (2) below).
 - 2) Any part of the works suffered damage or loss due to re-establish other parts of the works, if this other part in a defective condition due to a defect in design, materials or manufacturing.
 - 3) Any part of the works delivered to the employer, except to the extent that the contractor is responsible for the compensation of damage or loss.
 - 4) Implementation requirements when they are not available in the country, taking into account the provisions of paragraph (14-5) with respect to the mechanical supplies and materials intended to be used in the works.

If it find out – after one year of the date of signing the contract – that the insurance cover described in item (d) above is no longer available on reasonable commercial basis, the contractor shall as "insurer party" give notice to the employer concerning the matter attached to it the supporting details. And then the employer shall:

- 1) Entitle – taking into account the provisions of paragraph (5-2) – to obtain the amount from the contractor equal to this reasonable commercial insurance cover that the contractor expected to be paid against such cover; and
- 2) Be deemed that he approved its cancelation from insurance, unless he acquires the insurance cover on reasonable commercial basis, under the provisions of paragraph (18-1).

18-3 Insurance against bodily injury and damage to property

The "insurer party" shall procure insurance against the liability of each of the parties due to any death or bodily injury or any loss or damage can be caused to any tangible properties (except for works and contractor's equipment insured under the provisions of paragraph (18-2) or to any persons insured under the provisions of paragraph (18-4), due to what can be resulted from the implementation processes carried out by the contractor before the "final acceptance certificate of works."

The value of this insurance for each accident shall not be less than the amount specified in the Contract Data, without any maximum limit to the number of occurrences, (and if the contract did not mention any amount in this regard, the provisions of this paragraph shall not apply).

Unless otherwise stated in the contract data, the following for Insurance contained in this "paragraph" should be taken into account:

- a) To be issued and maintained by the contractor as "insurer party"
- b) The insurance shall be in the name of parties jointly
- c) That its extent shall be extended to include liability against loss and damage to employer's properties resulting from the implementation of contractor of contract's works (except for the matters insured according to paragraph (18-2)).
- d) In spite of this, it could exclude liability to the extent that it may arise with for:
 - 1) Employer's right to implement permanent works on or over or under or through any land, and to occupy (operate) this land for Permanent Works
 - 2) The damage that is considered a result of unavoidable obligations of the contractor to the implementation of works and repair any defects in it.
 - 3) Any case included in the risk of the employer in paragraph (17-3), unless its insurance cover is available in reasonable commercial terms.

18-4 Insurance on contractor's employees

The Contractor shall hold and maintain in force liability insurance against claims, damages, losses and expenses (including litigation's fees and expenses) that may result from injury or illness, or morbidity or death of any person used by the contractor or any of his workers. The employer and his representatives shall be included also in compensation under such insurance policy, except that this insurance cannot cover any losses or claims to the extent that result from any act or negligence by the employer or his representatives.

This insurance shall be sustained effectively and continuously for the time period in which these people are involved in the implementation of works, as for the personnel of any subcontractor, the subcontractor can procure insurance for them, but the contractor remains responsible for compliance with the provisions of this "article".

The employer shall, after receipt of this notice, proceed under paragraph (3-5) to agree on or prepare estimates of the cost mentioned.

19-5 Force Majeure Affecting Sub-contractor

If any subcontractor is entitled under any contract or agreement of works to any exemption as a result of force majeure under additional conditions or conditions broader than those specified in this Article, those events or additional or broader conditions of force majeure does not exempt the contractor in case of his non-performance and shall not authorize him to any exempt under the provisions of this "Article".

19-6 Termination of Contract Optionally , Payment and Discharge of Performance Responsibility

If the performance in the implementation of all the works could not be carried out substantially for (84) days continuously due to force majeure upon which a notice was sent under paragraph (19-2) or sequential periods exceeding in total more than (140) days due to the same force majeure that a notice has been sent thereto, then any party may send a notice to the other party to terminate the contract. In this case, the termination of the contract becomes effective after (7) days from the date of sending the notice; the contractor shall start with the stop work procedures and remove his equipment, pursuant to the provisions of paragraph (16-3).

Upon termination of the contract in this manner, the employer shall pay to the contractor:

- a) Amounts payable for any work performed and has a specified price in the contract;
- b) Cost of mechanical supplies and materials that its purchase has been fixed and received from the contractor or contracted to be supplied, and in such case these mechanical supplies and materials shall become the property of the employer (and under his responsibility) as soon as he pays their prices, and the contractor shall deliver and place them at the disposal of the employer;
- c) Any cost or other responsibility incurred reasonably and necessary by the contractor under such circumstances and as a result of his anticipation to complete the works;
- d) The cost of the removal of temporary works and contractor's equipment from the site, and bring it back to its stores in the country (or to any other place provided that it shall not exceed the cost of returning it back to its country); and
- e) The cost of repatriation (deportation) of contractor's personnel and workers that have been used to implement the works full time, upon the termination of this contract.

19-7 Discharge of Performance Responsibility by Law

Irrespective of any other provision in this article, if any event or circumstance raised beyond the control of the two teams (including force majeure, but is not limited to it), and made the fulfillment of the contractual obligations of one or both parties impossible or contrary to law, or leads under the law that governs the contract to exempt the parties from continuing to perform any other obligation under the contract. Then and after notice from either party to the other party of that circumstance or event:

- a) Both parties shall be exempted from continuing in the performance of any other obligation, but without prejudice to the rights of any of them in terms of any previous breach of contract; and
- b) The amount that employer shall pay to the contractor; it is the same as payable under the provisions of paragraph (19-6) above, as if the contract had been terminated thereunder.

Article Twenty: Claims, Disputes and Arbitration

20-1 Contractor's Claims

If the Contractor considers himself entitled for extension of the "completion period" and / or any additional payment under any "item" of these conditions, or for other reasons related to the contract, he shall give notice to the employer stating the incident or circumstances which led to such claim. This notification shall be sent as soon as practicable, within a period not exceeding (28) days from the date the contractor aware or should have been aware of such incident or circumstance.

If the contractor failed to send notification during such (28) day period, the completion period shall not be extended, and the contractor shall not be entitled to any additional payment and thus, the employer's responsibility shall be cleared with respect to such claim. Otherwise, the following provisions of this "paragraph" shall apply.

The Contractor shall also give any other notices that are required under the contract, and provides supporting details to the claim, for all that related to the incident or circumstance mentioned.

The Contractor shall keep and retain updated records, which is required to enhance the claim, either on-site or anywhere else is acceptable to the employer.

The employer may - without being obliged to acknowledge his responsibility for it - after receiving any notice under this "paragraph", monitor record-keeping and / or to instruct the contractor to continue the make entries in these updated records. The Contractor shall make available to the employer the opportunity to review and check such records, and give him copies thereto (if requested).

The Contractor shall also give notice to the employer within (42) days from the date of his knowledge of the incident or circumstance that led to this claim (or the date on which he was imposed to know of it), or during any other period proposed by the contractor and approved by the employer, an adequately detailed claim and comprehensive of the details supporting the basis of the claim and extension of the period and / or additional installment claimed. But if the incident or the circumstances which led to this claim has a continuous effect:

- a) The detailed claim that has been provided shall be considered interim;
- b) The contractor shall continue sending the interim claims monthly, showing in each of them the period of the accumulated delay and / or the claimed amount, and other supporting details as required by the employer reasonably; and
- c) The Contractor shall send his final claim within (28) days after the date of expiry of the effects of the incident or circumstance, or during any other period proposed by the contractor and approved by the employer.

The employer shall, within (42) days from the date of receiving a claim, or any other details supporting a previous claim – or within any period he proposed and approved by the contractor – to make a claim and respond to it either by approval or disapproval with stating his detailed remarks on it, and he may also request any other necessary details. In spite of that, he is obliged to give his response to the grounds of the claim during the period referred to above.

Employer shall, within the (42) day period referred above, proceed with the estimates procedures under paragraph (5-3) to determine or estimate the following:

- 1) Any extension in completion period (whether before or after its expiration) pursuant to the provisions of paragraph (8-4) ; and / or
- 2) Additional payment (if any) that the contractor is entitled to under the provisions of the contract.

Each certificate shall include payment of amounts of any additional payment which its maturity can be proven reasonably under any of the relevant provisions of the contract. And until to provide adequate details to establish the authenticity of the allegation for the entire the claim, the contractor entitlement in regard thereof, will be restricted to that part of the claim, who was able to prove his claim thereon.

If the employer did not respond within the time limit specified in this article, any party is entitled to consider the claim unacceptable from the employer, and any of the parties is entitled to refer the claim to dispute resolution body to take the right decision pursuant to the provisions of paragraph (20-4).

The requirements of this "paragraph" shall be deemed additional to those mentioned in any "paragraph" that may apply on the claim, and if the employer failed to adhere to the provisions of this "paragraph" or any other "paragraph", then the extent (if any) of the impact of the failure on the proper investigation of the claim shall be taken into account when evaluate any extension in the "completion period" and / or any additional payment properly, only if this claim has been excluded under this "paragraph".

20-2 Appointment of Settlement of Dispute Board (Board):)

Settlement of disputes shall be carried out in "Settlement of Dispute Board" pursuant to the provisions of paragraph (20-4). Both parties shall name the members of the board jointly within (28) days of notice by one party to the other party that he will resort to raise his complaint to the "Settlement of Dispute Board" pursuant to the provisions of paragraph (20-4).

"The Board" consists, as specified in the Contract Data, from one person or three persons of appropriate qualification (Members). And he must be good at communication specified in the contract fluently and be an expert in methods of construction used in the implementation of works, as well as his experience in the interpretation of contract's documents and if the number of members has not been determined and has not been agreed by the parties on it, then the number shall be three.

If the "Board" consists of three members, each party shall nominate one member to obtain consent of the other party on him, and then the two members so appointed shall propose the third member and the parties must agree on the third member, who shall be appointed chairman of the board.

And if there is a list of nominated arbitrators referred to in the contract, then the member's names shall be selected among the names mentioned in it, except for any person unable or do not wish to accept the appointment as a board member.

Drafting of the agreement shall be made between both parties and the only member of Board (arbitrator) or each member of the three members so reference should be made to the general conditions relating to "the Convention on the settlement of disputes," attached as an appendix to these general conditions of the contract, with any amendments agreed upon among themselves. As for the wages of the only member of the Board or all of the three members' wages and any other expert the "Board" consult with, it must be determined between the two parties upon the agreement on the terms of appointing the "members," and both parties shall jointly pay those wages. If any member of the Settlement of Dispute Board refrains from work or he became unable to perform his duties due to death or disability or due to resignation or terminate the appointment, a replacement shall be appointed in the same manner in which the replaced member was appointed or to be agreed upon as described in this paragraph. The appointment of any member can be terminated by the agreement of the two teams together, and not from the employer or contractor individually. Unless otherwise agreed by the parties, the term of appointment of the "Board" (including each member of it) ends when the Settlement of Dispute Board submit his decision on the merits of the dispute pursuant to the provisions of paragraph (20-4), only if another disputes raised to "Settlement of Dispute Board" at the same time pursuant to the provisions of paragraph (20-4), then that termination shall be postponed until the Board completes the submission of its decisions with regard to such disputes.

20-3 Failure to agree on the appointment of the (Board)

If any of the following cases apply specifically:

- a) Both parties did not agree on the appointment of the sole board member at the date specified in paragraph (20-2) ;
- b) Any party failed to name a member (to be approved by the other party) or failed in approving the member proposed by the other party of the Settlement of Dispute Board that consist of three member at the date mentioned above;
- c) Both Parties did not agree on the appointment of the third member (Board Chairmen) at the date mentioned above
- d) Both parties did not agree on the appointment of any alternate member within a period of (42) days from the end of the task of the sole member of the board or one of the three members of the board, due to his refusal or due to the death or disability to perform the tasks or due to the resignation or termination of appointment.

Then, the appointment party (authority) or the person named in the Contract Data, at the request of either party, or both, shall make the necessary consultation with both parties to appoint such board member. This appointment shall be final and definite, and both parties shall pay the bonus of the person or the party (authority) who made the appointment equally.

20-4 Decisions by Settlement of Disputes Board (Board)

Unless specified otherwise in the Special Conditions:

If a dispute of whatever kind raised between the parties, in connection of or as a result of the contract or the implementation of works, including any dispute on any certificate or estimates or instructions or opinion or value determination by the engineer, then and after the appointment of the "Settlement of Dispute Board" pursuant to the provisions of paragraphs (20-2) and (20-3), any party can refer the dispute in writing to the "Board" to be studied and take a decision on it, with sending two copies of such notice to the other party, provided that note should be made that referral of such dispute is in accordance with the provisions of this "paragraph."

If the "Board" consists of three members, then the board shall be deemed that it has received the notice of referral the dispute to it in accordance with the provisions of this "paragraph" at the date which the chairman of the board receives such notice.

Both parties shall submit to the Board all additional information without delay, and to provide a possibility of access to the appropriate location and facilities, which may be requested by the "Board" for the purpose of enabling the board to make a decision on that dispute, it is assumed implicitly that the board will not work as an arbitration body.

The "Settlement of Dispute Board" shall, within a period not exceeding (84) days from the date of receipt of the notice of dispute referral to it or receive the advance payment, whichever is later under Article (6) of the attachment to the general conditions of the resolving disputes agreement or such other period as proposed by the "Board" approved by the parties, make a decision about it and conditioned that this decision to be reasoned and include a reference that it was issued pursuant to the provisions of this paragraph. However, in the case of non-payment of any of the parties to any amounts owed to any of the arbitrators in full accordance with the provisions of Article (6) of the attachment mentioned above. The board shall not submit its decision on the merits of the dispute until the payment of full dues. The decision of the "Board" binding on both parties and they should implement it, unless it is (or until it will) revised by amicable settlement or through arbitration proceedings as will be mentioned later. And unless the contract has been abandoned or revoked or terminated, the contractor shall, in such a situation, continue in the implementation of works in accordance with the provisions of the contract.

If any team is not satisfied with the "Board" decision, it shall within (28) days after the date of receipt of the decision, to send notice to the other party informing him of his dissatisfaction. And if the "Board" has not been able to issue its decision within a period of (84) days (or as agreed otherwise) from the date of receipt of dispute referral request (or receipt of its dues), then either party may, within a period of (28) days following the period of (84) days elapsed, notify other team of his dissatisfaction and willingness to resort to arbitration.

In any of these cases, the subject of dispute and the reasons for dissatisfaction with the notification should be outlined, and also noted that it has been issued under the provisions of this "paragraph" with the exception of what will be mentioned later in paragraphs (20-7 and 20-8), neither party may start arbitration proceedings on the dispute, unless a notice of dissatisfaction was issued as defined in the "paragraph."

But if the "Board" issued its decision on any different matter between the parties, and no notice of dissatisfaction was sent to it by any party within (28) days after the date of receipt of the decision, the decision of the "Board" shall become final and binding on both parties.

20-5 Amicable settlement

If a notice of dissatisfaction is issued pursuant to paragraph (20-4) above, both parties shall attempt to settle the dispute amicably before start with the arbitration procedures. And Unless the Parties agree otherwise:

Arbitration proceedings may be commenced on or after the fifty sixth day of the date of notice of dissatisfaction and the desire to resort to arbitration, even if the dispute is not been settled amicably.

20-6 Arbitration:

Unless otherwise provided in the special conditions and unless the dispute has been settled amicably, any dispute about the Council's decision (if any) in respect thereof, which has not become final and binding, shall be settled by arbitration. And unless the parties agree otherwise:

- a) For contracts with foreign contractors, the arbitration shall be conducted under the rules and procedures of international arbitration adopted by the International arbitral tribunal specified in the contract data, such as those issued by the International Chamber of Commerce or UNCITRAL or Arab Arbitration Chamber for contractors.
- b) Unless specified otherwise, the arbitration shall be conducted in Iraq.
- c) Arbitration awards shall be subject to the Iraqi laws.
- d) The language of communication specified under paragraph (1-4) (Law and Language) shall be adopted in the arbitration procedures.
- e) For contracts with local contractors, the arbitration rules under the Iraqi laws shall be adopted.

Arbitral tribunal shall have full authority to detect, review and revise any certificate or estimates or instructions or opinions or evaluation, and any decision issued by the Settlement of Disputes Council with respect to the dispute.

Any of the parties shall not be limited in the proceedings before the arbitral tribunal concerning the evidences or arguments previously put forward in front of the "Council" before making its decision, or the reasons mentioned in the notice of dissatisfaction, and any decision of the "Council" shall be considered as acceptable evidence in the arbitration.

Is may be started before or after the completion of the works, and any obligations of the parties or the "Council" shall not be affected if the arbitration proceedings started during the implementation of the works.

20-7 Non-compliance to the Board decision:

In the event of the failure of one of the parties to comply with the final and binding decision of the Settlement of Disputes Council, the second party shall be entitled to, without prejudice to any of his other rights, assign such non-compliance to arbitration under the provisions of Paragraph (6-20) and in such a situation the provisions of paragraphs (20-4) (relating to the Council's decision) and (20-5) concerning amicable settlement shall not apply.

20-8 – Expiration of the period of Appointment of (the Board):

If a dispute arises between both parties whether war related to the contract or what arises from it or for executing the works, and there were "no council to resolve the dispute" because of the expiration of its term of appointment or for other reasons, then:

- a- Para (20/4) which is related to the decision of the council, and Para (20/5) related to amicable settlement cannot be applied.
- b- The dispute can be referred directly to arbitration according to the provisions of Para (20/6).
