

A Brief on Undergraduate Studies

Since the beginning of its founding in 1982, the College of Dentistry has provided twenty-eight dentists with its first foundation in 1987. The total number of alumni for the undergraduate program up to 2021 in its thirty-third foundation is 2431 graduates. The task of acquiring adequate knowledge of the terminologies of oral and dental surgery by explaining the scientific terms used in dentistry of theoretical and practical matter, and English is one of the most important requirements of medical curriculum education through a scientific and academic level for five full - time academic years through which all kinds of materials and devices used in the field of oral and dental surgery are identified. The student academic preparatory program aims to enhance the student's self - confidence and guide him to deal with all kinds of patients and diseases and discuss optimal therapeutic methods professionally that increase the patient's confidence in his dentist and help quick recovery according to the principle of using all the joints of medical ethics and raising the level of professional and ethical handling of graduate students with patients. The academic program has strengthened students' mechanisms and principles of continuous education by giving lectures and providing students with them on the college website, presenting educational movies, using display devices, and digital cameras, using educational illustrations, posters, promo, and educational bulletins, conducting training courses, workshops, clinical and applied education, offering student collections and cultural meetings to provide student spirit and nurturing them with the principles of cooperation and affinity between training and parents. The preparatory program for students has contributed in another way to the promotion of university values and traditions that contribute to the building and development of the university student's character, raising his cultural level and entrenching the concepts of democracy, human rights, justice, equality, and respect for the other.

Last Updated on 30/7/2022